BEEF TEA versus BOVRIL.

BEEF TEA.

"Were it possible to furnish the market at a reasonable price, with a preparation of meat combining in itself the albuminous together with the extractive principles, such a preparation would have to be preferred to extractum carnis, for it would contain all the nutritive constituents of meat. I have before stated that in preparing the Extract of Meat the albuminous principles remain in the residue; they are most nutritive, and this is certainly a great disadvantage."

BARON LIEBIG.

Discoverer of Liebig's Extract, in
The Lancet, Nov. 11, 1865.

BOVRIL.

Was invented to realise Baron von Liebig's desire for a meat food that would contain not only the stimulating properties of flesh
—as all Meat Extracts and Beef Teas do—but also the nourishing properties of flesh, which Meat Extracts and Beef Teas do not.
This has been accomplished by first taking the extractive principles by the Liebig process (which is akin to home-made beef tea)
and then adding albumen and fibrous, produced from the flesh of other oxen roasted and finely ground to powder; the combination is Bovril.

HONGKONG, FRIDAY, JANUARY 3, 1902.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

A Good Sign.

Yesterday's function at Government House, when an address was presented to His Excellency the Governor by the Chinese Community, will, we hope, mark a certain turning point in the history of the Colony, a point at which it would have been better for us if we had arrived years ago. The presentation of the address and the speech of Dr. Ho Kai show very plainly that the Chinese Community have at last come to appreciate the fact that it is not the intention or object of the Government to oppress the Chinese at all, but that it wishes to work hand in hand with them for the benefit of the Chinese, the Europeans and the general prosperity of the Colony. On too many occasions we have seen friction between the two races. The Europeans, represented by the Government, wanted one thing and the Chinese wanted another. Not perhaps that the Chinese were in any very active opposition, but simply because the proposed measure interfered with them, or they thought that it would be likely to do so. This state of affairs was brought about to a great extent by want of knowledge on the part of the Chinese themselves. Neither party understood the other and the result was friction.

Latterly, however, since Sir HENRY BLAKE has been at the head of affairs, the Chinese and the Government have been more in touch one with the other. Sir HENRY has grasped the fact that opposition is more often than not the result of ignorance and, by striving to thoroughly understand the Chinese, to obtain their views on different subjects, and by respecting their prejudices to as great an extent as possible, he has done much to break down the barrier of race. What is so often lost sight of is the fact that the Chinese represent as large, if not larger interests in the Colony than the Europeans, and hence they are entitled to a certain amount of consideration. It will be much better for all concerned if the Chinese can be brought to look at matters as we do, and this can only be brought about by a thorough understanding and a regard for class and race prejudices. In this the Chinese will have to make many concessions as we do. You cannot take a Chinaman and make a European of him by a stroke of the pen any more than you can turn a European into a Chinaman, but you can, if you go about matters in the right way, convince the Chinaman that European methods are, in some cases best, and this is what is wanted here.

That these old animosities are dying out is evidenced by the manner in which the Chinese are cheerfully submitting to the general cleansing of the City now in progress. As His Excellency pointed out, the families are bearing all the inevitable discomforts with a cheerful fortitude that could not be exceeded by any community in the world. Instead of obstructing matters, as has often been the case formerly, they are actively assisting in the work, and simply because their prejudices have been respected to some extent, a few slight concessions made, and the discomforts of the cleansing made as small as possible. Anybody who has had to deal with the ruling of an alien race will fully appreciate the advantage of this state of affairs. With even a passive resistance upon the part of the Chinese, the whole of this great work would have been rendered impossible, but as matters now stand all goes as merrily as a marriage bell.

We have heard His Excellency severely criticised at times by people who say that he gives way too much to the Chinese, but we think that he is right in hearing both sides of every question. He recognises the fact, as he pointed out yesterday, that we live in a free country and every man is entitled to think his own thoughts and speak his own mind, and to guide his own actions without interference, so long as those actions do not prevent the exercise of a similar freedom by others. This is where the great stumbling block has always been. We have been too prone to think, as Kipling puts it, "That East is East and West is West, And never the twain shall meet," and so long as we approach matters in that spirit we can never hope to succeed in living comfortably and without friction in Hongkong. A better understanding will smooth the way for the removal of racial prejudices, and we trust that yesterday's function points to this becoming, in the near future, an accomplished fact. A mutual understanding will remove all difficulties.

PURELY ACADEMIC.—To find the Chinese vernacular Press discussing whether intelligence is better than brute courage in war is to give occasion to the scoffers. After exhibitions in recent years it is a matter for amazement, that either intelligence or courage in war should be even academically discussed by the Chinese. The great Chinese organ, Sing Wan Pao, is pleased to observe, "Mere brute courage, which rushes furiously on death, while valuable, is insufficient. There must be knowledge to supplement and steady it." It then mentions a number of commanders who were scholars and brave withal. Unfortunately, these worthies are not known to fame.

THE MOTOR RACE between the Duke of the Abruzzi and Signor Colletti ended in the Duke smashing his car. The race was from Villanova, near Turin, to Scala, near Bologna. The Duke reached Alessandria 12 minutes ahead of Signor Colletti, but at San Giuliano, some distance beyond Alessandria, the Duke's car ran into a milestone, and was smashed to pieces. The Duke had a heavy fall, but was unhurt, and he returned to Alessandria in a carriage. Signor Colletti, who had started 15 minutes before the Duke, and was therefore two minutes ahead of him at Alessandria, knew nothing of the accident. He continued the race, reaching Bologna at seven minutes past five o'clock. The distance covered 349 kilometres (218 miles).

AN OCEAN TRAMP.—A steamer named the Port Albert, has reached the port of London after no less than two years and nine months' continuous voyaging on transport service, in the course of which she has covered more than 100,000 miles. Adelaide, Honolulu, Manila, Taku, Tacoma, and Port Pirie in Australia, these are some of the ports at which this ship touched before she finally left the Cape for Liverpool and London. Decidedly there is no fear of the world's carrying trade being transferred to other than British bottoms if our mercantile marine can emulate the performance of the Port Albert. The Wandering Jew himself was not a more diligent tramp than this steamer. But how glad her skipper and crew must be to find themselves on shore at last!

HONGKONG READERS, especially ladies, will be interested in the following note about the distinguished lady who presided over the "Women's Conference" at the Mission Press Chapel in the spring of this year: Lady Blake, wife of Sir Henry Blake, Governor of Hongkong, who is now at home for a short visit, is a daughter of the late Mr. Ralph Bernal Osborne, of Tipperary, and a sister of the Dowager Duchess of St. Albans. Her marriage was a pure love match, as her husband was at the time in the Irish Constabulary, and there seemed little likelihood of his rising to his present position. Sir Henry frankly ascribes his success to his wife's devoted help and encouragement, but at the same time his own great abilities and perseverance should not be overlooked. Lady Blake is tall, handsome, stately, and rather reserved. She is an exceedingly well read and cultured woman, is passionately fond of animals of all kinds, and is also an enthusiastic entomologist and botanist. She was very popular in Jamaica, of which beautiful island Sir Henry was Governor before going to Hongkong, and she is that somewhat rare bird, a learned woman, who is womanly. She and her sister, the Dowager Duchess of St. Albans, are devotedly attached to each other, and while the Blakes were in Jamaica the Duchess spent most of her time there.

THE BURMA-SHAN CHINA.—At the monthly meeting of the Liverpool Chamber of Commerce on 21st inst., it was reported that a memorial on the subject of the extension of the Burma-Shan-China Railway, Mandalay Kanton line, into South-west and Central China approved by the committee of the East India China Trade Section, and later by the council, was duly despatched to the Secretary of State for India in Council. Copies have also been sent to the Viceroy of India, the Indian and Burma Chambers of Commerce, and to all the Chambers of the United Kingdom, several of which had given their support.

DEFENCE OF THE PORT OF LONDON.—Some very interesting details concerning the defence of the Port of London are contained in the report of the Medical Officer of Health for the Port for last month. During that period 3,201 vessels were inspected, as against 3,112 in the corresponding month of last year. As it has been conclusively proved that rats are sources of plague infection, a relentless crusade has been undertaken for the extermination of the rodents at the docks. In the medical officer's last report, 60,814 of these pests were accounted for, and from Sept. 23 to Oct. 27 14,610, were destroyed, making a total of 75,424.

THE DUKE OF DEVONSHIRE, distributing war medals at Eastbourne, said some of the Government were of opinion that the war might at once be ended by the offer of renewed negotiations or by renewed statements of the terms open to the Boers as soon as they laid down their arms. The Boer leaders knew perfectly well—and if their followers did not it was not our fault—that there was nothing which the Government and the people of this country more desired than that all races in South Africa should, at the earliest possible moment, enjoy all the blessings of the freest and most liberal institutions of Self-government under the British flag. As to when the time had arrived when those free institutions might be created, it was for the victors, and not the vanquished, to be the proper judges.

REPORTED MUTINY AT MACAO.

RINGLEADERS ARRESTED.

It appears that matters are not running as smoothly as could be wished in military circles in Macao, and what is said to have been an open act of mutiny has just been slipped in the bud. So far as we have been able to gather the facts of the case are as follows:—

A new regiment recently arrived from Lisbon to garrison the place and the men say that they are being paid at a lower rate of pay than they agreed to serve for, and that they are forced to do police duty, although their Lisbon agreement provides for garrison duty only. It seems that the Portuguese Authorities have only been paying their native police about nine cents per day, with the result that they are unable to obtain either Chinese or Indians, hence the Portuguese troops have been forced to do police duty and this, coupled with poor pay, has led to the greatest of dissatisfaction.

The mutiny was to, have, taken place yesterday. The plan was for the Artillery, quartered in the Monte Fort, to have fired two guns: the usual signal given on the outbreak of a fire. On this being done ten rounds of ammunition are served out per man, and the men were then to go to Government House with their arms and force the Governor to grant their demands, anybody who resisted them in their progress to be shot.

Fortunately the plot was divulged by an orderly and the ten (some say nine) ringleaders were arrested, one being placed on the gunboat Zaire and the rest confined in the Monte Fort. At the time of latest advices Macao was quiet.

INVASION OF HONGKONG.

ENEMY AT THE PEAK.

HEAVY ATTACK ON TYAM RESERVOIR.

The island of Hongkong has been invaded last evening and fighting has been in progress all day. A small detachment of the enemy's infantry effected a lodgment at Victoria Peak on the evening of the 2d inst., and, at the same time a post at Tyam Reservoir was heavily attacked, though the defending force made a gallant stand notwithstanding their ammunition and stores were nearly run out.

There is, however, no need for alarm, and business can be conducted as usual. The Royal Welch Fusiliers have been having a regimental field day, and the general idea is embodied in the tactical scheme above.

Fortunately at Tyam the defenders were some of the best and the attacking force, having lost heavily, was drawn off under cover of night to their ships. It was thought probably that they intended to attack another point, but it was too dark to ascertain if all or only part of them were gone. Early this morning two companies were detailed from Murray Barracks to accompany a convoy of supplies and ammunition to the Garrison at Tyam and were ordered to proceed via the Naval Hospital, Happy Valley, and Yung-nai-cheng gap. They had to advance with great care as it was thought probable that some of the enemy would be met with en route.

The battle has been proceeding during the day, and the men have thoroughly enjoyed the onslaught and much appreciated the outing.

CRICKET.

H.K. C. C. v. GARRISON.

This match was played on Wednesday and Thursday last and resulted in an easy win for the Club. The chief feature of the game was the brilliant batting of Sercombe Smith, who played right through the Club's innings and made the highest score of the season. It was a pity that Franklin was unable to play on Thursday, as it would have been interesting to see how many runs were made before the fall of the first wicket. Mackenzie and Hay were the only men who helped Smith in putting together his score, 6 of the team only compiling 19 runs between them. Preedy bowled well for the Garrison, and took two wickets in two successive balls. Hayhurst gave no end of trouble to the batsmen and, with the exception of Smith, nobody played him with entire confidence.

Fanshawe and Kriekenbeek batted well, the latter especially. Hayhurst played a very patient game and got out by putting one of Smith's off breaks into Ward's hands. The fielding on both sides was good, with the exception of Kriekenbeek and Dixon, who were both fielding at point. The latter is much too slow and inclined to be lazy.

The following were the scores—

Audited and found correct.

G. PIERCE, JR.

It should be stated that, in addition to the above expenditure, there is a liability for furniture forwarded from England, amounting to about £150. To defray this £100 of the original £1,000 provided by the Wesleyan Army and Navy Committee has been retained. This advance balance will be transferred to the current working account, and will be partially covered by the above $203.62.

The heartiest thanks of the undersigned are hereby tendered to Mrs. F. H. May, Mrs. M. Watson, Mrs. Piercy, and Mrs. Macdonald; also to Capt. Brown, Mr. Robertson, Sap. Porismouth, R.N., Sgt. Hall, A.O.C., Pte. Roberts, R.W.F., Corpl. Little, R.W.F. Quartermaster, Sgt. Sivil, R.E., and to others whose names may be omitted here, for their generous assistance in collecting subscriptions. Also to the many friends who have so generously given, without whose aid the undertaking could never have been completed. All well-wishers will be pleased to know that the Home is well patronised, and that although 66 beds are provided, not infrequently these are found to be inadequate for the numbers who need beds. The Committee has been urged to add a third storey all the length of the building, and even then the accommodation, with our present fleet would not be enough.

TIENTSIN DAY BY DAY.

(From Our Own Correspondent).

TIENTSIN, December 20th.

The Court reached Chichien on the 8th of the 11th moon, and made a pause there. Rumours have been current that the Emperor is sick and the Dowager grumpy over returning, but there is nothing authentic. There has been an important confab of the Ministers and Chinese Plenipotentiaries about the restoration of Tientsin City. Five of the Ministers appear to be in favour of handing over and five against such a measure. Among the latter are the Russian, French, American, Spanish and Japanese. Those in favour of restoration are the British, German, Italian, Belgian and Dutch. At least I believe that is the arrangement, and is approximately correct. It is universally recognised as a regrettable step to contemplate, and it will be one more and more deplored later on if it is carried out. Tientsin City is absolutely the last and only hold on the Chinese Government we possess, and it was previously occupied for two years, and taken for five merely for the Tientsin Massacre of 1870. Now the Generals are nearly unanimous in opposing the idea.

Telegrams were received from Peking to-day to the effect that Mr. Pethick had just passed away, his death being due to heart trouble, doubtless promoted by his recent illness of many weeks. He passed through here on his way back to Peking only some two weeks ago, and it was thought he had benefited greatly by the change. He has, however, very quickly succeeded his late employer. Much interest of course attaches to the biography of Li Hung Chang which he kept written up to date throughout his long term of service as Secretary, and which will presumably be published.

MESSRS. COTTAM & CO. for THE FAVORITE STRAW, BATH, AND

The Board of Astronomy selected two days on which it was propitious for the Emperor to return to Peking, the 28th of 11th moon, and 2nd of 12th moon. The Emperor chose the former, which is about January 8th.

The T. P. G. has begun the distribution of relief to the poor, and are now extending aid to some 1000 families, which are dealt with according to districts. The period of relief extends from December 9th to end of March.

The T. P. G. have issued a proclamation again with regard to refuse, a precaution rendered all the more necessary on account of the plague at Newchwang. The regulations are—

1. There are several specially provided places for the dumping of filth and they are indicated by a notice board, and everything must be thrown there.
2. No one must deposit garbage or refuse of any kind in his own compound, in the road, or on the banks of the river.
3. Anyone guilty of such practices and also his neighbour for allowing it, will be fined.
4. Each resident must clean his own frontage daily.
5. All places for dumping filth must be at least 400 feet from the nearest dwelling and outside the city.

Dr. Edwards of the C.I.M., who went to Shensi some eight months ago to arrange about the indemnity in that province, returned here a few days ago, and gives an excellent account of Governor Sheng.

PAKHOI.

(From a Correspondent.)

Christmas has come and gone. The usual dullness of this port has been relieved this year by an entertainment on the night of Boxing Day. It was unique of its kind since this port has been opened for foreign trade. The entertainment consisted of songs, recitation, pianoforte playing, a farce, sketching, &c., by the local amateurs. It was a gala day for Pakhoi that nobody could have anticipated. All praise was due to Dr. J. H. Lowry, of the I. M. Customs, who has been struggling with many difficulties to make it a success, and the recent infusion of young new blood among us has contributed not a little to the amusement of the evening. With the exception of the members of the Church Missionary Society, German Missionaries, and two or three of the lay members of our community who were kept away through indisposition, the whole of the Foreign community turned out to enjoy the treat, though the night was unfortunately the coldest of the season, but their trouble was more than repaid. By the kind consent of Mr. Paul H. King, Commissioner of Customs, the examination shed was tastefully decorated and converted into a theatre, under the direction of Mr. T. Loureiro, with admirable good effect, and great credit is due to him for the transformation of a barren godown—as is generally the case with the Customs Examination shed—into a nice little theatre in the course of only a few hours. Nothing seemed to be wanting even to the all necessary foot-lights. As to the performance itself, each and every one of the performers interpreted his part well, and there was not a hitch to mar the success of the evening, but special mention must be made of those who distinguished themselves most, such as Madame Flayeth, whose pianoforte playing was above that of the average amateur, and Mr. Rogers' sketching of some of the European celebrities as well as of a few of the local residents present amongst the audience was both artistic and amusing. By proposal of Dr. Lowry (the Director) Mons. L. Flayelle, Consul de France, kindly consented to act as Chairman.

The following was the programme—

1. Piano solo, "Tarentelle," Mr. F. Materna.
2. Song, "The Old Tell Tale," Mr. E. E. Bulbrook.
3. Electric painting of Colchidra, Mr. H. E. Rodgers.
4. Recitation, "The Poet's Dream," Mr. Judell.
5. The Pakhoi Sando, Mr. J. H. Lowry.
6. Topical song, "The Pakhoi Town," (The strongest man in the world Old and New.)
7. Piano solo, "Fantasie Impromptu," Madame Flayeth, by Chopin.
8. Song, "The Tin Gee Gee," Mr. Materna.
9. Song, "On Schilling's Bell," Mr. Henkel.

1. Mrs. Jarley's, "Wax Works," Unique! Dr. Lowry, Showman, "Charles."
2. Song, "The Militant," Mr. E. Bulbrook.
3. Piano solo, "Ave," (Simple song), Madame Flayeth, by F. Thomé.
4. Song, "Tarentelle," Mr. T. Loureiro.
5. Song, "Ere's Isles," Mr. Henkel.
6. Song, "Cockles and Mussels," Dr. Lowry.
7. Sketch, "The Piccadilly Restaurant," composed by Mr. Bell, performed by the first appearance of Pakhoi Troupe.

The entertainment, which commenced shortly after 8 o'clock, terminated a few minutes to 12. A French blue-jacket, from the French gunboat Decidde, died on the 22nd inst., and his funeral took place the following day. As he was the first European Roman Catholic who died here, a new piece of ground was purchased and fenced in as a Roman Catholic cemetery. The Chinese gunboat Kwang Kum brought over from Canton a few weeks ago some 600 rifles for the Lim Chow garrison.

Piracy and robbery are still as rife as ever. It was only two weeks ago that a junk, with transit cargo to Kwangsi belonging to some foreign firms here, was intercepted by pirates on the way up, and part of the cargo was taken ashore and carried away, the consequence is the stoppage of all the trade between this and Kwangsi until the route is cleared from pirates. As this is the only port from which the Southern Kwangsi draws its supply you can imagine how detrimental is this state of things to trade if it is allowed to continue any longer.

Among the absurdly prohibitive clauses is one which forbids any foreign company to charge an extra premium on life policies, granted in time of war.

When this extraordinary enactment, of which the objectionable features are far too numerous, and in some cases too technical to set out at length, was first passed, a year ago, the eighteen British Companies petitioned through the Foreign Office, but no result followed, though the American Minister obtained a respite in the matter of the date from which it should take effect. A polite but decided hint that Great Britain would make reprisals, would probably be quite sufficient to check this exhibition of wilful German aggression. It seems a little humiliating to wait upon the good offices of America, yet British Insurance men appear to think this way lies their best chance.

The Liverpool Bank Fraud has not yet run its nine days of wonder. Goudie, the absconding clerk, has so far made good his escape, and none of the £170,000 of which he so cleverly robbed the Bank, has been recovered. The frauds have been skillfully carried on during the whole of the last year, and the police hold, that the man must have had confederates. So excellent were the methods adopted to avoid detection, that although the books were audited weekly, throughout the whole period, no suspicions were even aroused.

Miss Hobbhouse, who arrived at Southampton a few days ago, appeared to quote a reporter,—"In very good health, and very bad humour." Passengers by the same vessel relate, that the greatest difficulty was experienced by the authorities at Capetown in conveying the lady from the outward to the homeward-bound steamer. On hearing that the officials had been sent to remove her from the Avondale Castle she evaded their attentions by taking a bath. Eventually however, Miss Hobbhouse was carried by hospital orderlies to the returning liner. Although holding quite aloof throughout the voyage, she had the courtesy to acknowledge to Lieut. Colonel Clowes, officer in charge, that she had been properly treated on board the steamer. A sufficiently ludicrous incident thus ended to, let us hope, the satisfaction of all parties.

The organ-grinder peevish case will come before the House of Lords next month. "Viscount" Hinton has abandoned his instrument ever since the death of the late Earl Poulett, and acting under legal advice, he has kept very quiet. It is understood that should the claimant establish his title to the peevish, to the satisfaction of the House of Lords, it may prove a barren honour, as the remainder of the family will strenuously contest the possession of the property, about which the entail seems uncertain.

Mr. MacLaren's Team has been more successful than English cricket opinion believed likely. Although defeated both at Adelaide and at Sydney, in this latter match, they made a fine fight for victory, which only eluded their grasp, by the small margin of 13 runs. At Melbourne the Englishmen scored, what must in justice be called a weather victory, just as at Adelaide defeat was likewise due to the intervention of a violent rain-storm.

Barnes, who was taken in Australia expressly because the Colonial fast wickets were considered likely to suit his style and pace, has, so far, been more successful on sticky wickets, which is the greater misfortune, seeing that Mr. MacLaren is amply supplied with that class of bowler.

The life of Lord Russell of Killowen, late Lord Chief Justice, by Mr. O'Brien of the Middle Temple, published ten days ago, is distinctly the book of the season. Not only is almost every interesting case with which the eminent barrister was connected, during the last forty years—and the number of those, in which he was retained, whether side, can be counted on the fingers, touched on with inside knowledge, but the personality of the man stands out from every page. Lord Russell, like most people of very marked individuality, had many angles against which clients, or others chanced to fall, they were wont to describe him as surly and ill-mannered, and it must be admitted, but deeply as Mr. O'Brien evidently admires his subject, these imperious exuberances are fairly often in evidence. The predominant impression the book will make on most readers, is a sense of the forcefulness of the mind and character of the great Advocate. Lord Russell's premature death was chiefly caused by the burning of the candle at both ends, to which the biography bears constant witness. A single 24 hours of his life is typical of the whole. After speaking all day in court, he journeyed to Chichester to address a political meeting. Thence by the 4 a.m. train to Leeds, where 19-30 found him again in court handling a complicated commercial case. Human frailty will not stand a strain like that, indefinitely.

THE EMPIRE COMEDY AND VARIETY COMPANY.

AN UNREHEARSED PERFORMANCE IN COURT.

The Empire Company appeared to an almost empty and listless house on Saturday night at Shanghai, says the China Gazette of the 30th December. This morning the British Civil Summary Court was the scene of an unheated performance, when the precincts of that prosaic temple of the law were invaded by a heavy of beauty and talent, representing the major part of the combination, which has not been quite successful in winning the financial success its proprietors hoped when they landed on our shores from Hongkong ten days ago. Five of the fair ladies, in smart walking attire and of prepossessing and ladylike appearance, and four or five of the male members of the company attended to ask His Honour for advice. They elected the orchestra conductor, Mr. Drakeford, their spokesman and he attended, ed Mr. Bourne, the Assistant Judge, in his private room to lay the case of himself and his fair companions in distress before the British authorities for light and guidance. It would seem that the applicants claim that their contracts have still four months to run and they state the proprietors of the show, Messrs. Harper and Thompson, wished to terminate the venture forthwith and send the company back to Australia, where, in such case, they would land without a penny in many instances, and some of them thousands of miles away from their homes and friends. As a result of the interview with the Court and Consular officers, we are informed that a communication was sent to the proprietors who had the effect of getting them to change their minds about disbanding the troupe in Shanghai and the company instead is likely to proceed to Tientsin at an early date.

THE ADVENTURE OF THE FRENCH MAIL.

From a gentleman who was on board the French mail Ville de la Giralde on her trip from Hongkong to Singapore, we learn that that vessel, when she lost a couple of her propeller blades, had a very much narrower escape of serious injury by nothing worse, than people here are yet aware of. In very thick weather and fog, the ship was trying to make the Hornsby light, when suddenly, going at considerable speed, she ran right on to a shoal. As extreme good fortune would have it, the Ville de la Giralde practically ran along a narrow lane with soft bottom, but on each side were lumps of ugly rock on which she would have crumpled her bows had she been a few yards one way or the other. It was only after going full speed astern for a long while, that the ship, probably on the rising tide, slid away from her awkward situation. This was close to the lighthouse, which just became visible as she stranded, and a little to the north of it. It was on the ship turning away that the stern slowing round in answer to the helm, brought the propellers against the edge of the reef and did a injury described. Altogether it must be admitted that the Ville de la Giralde got extremely well out of a very perilous experience.

WAS IT A POISON SNAKE?

Sometimes John Garrett would go from morning till night without sleep or rest. This was the case four years ago. Every morning he got up with a disagreeable gnawing pain in the stomach or abdomen—he couldn't quite locate it, but he felt it all the same. Still he kept on working. He meant to see a doctor but neglected it. So a year ran away. By then the gnawing had got hold of him as a wild grape vine does of an old tree.

He was a man full of pain in an unusual cellar of moulting and crawling things. Often they kept him from sleep for twelve hours before he got a bit of ease; and for three weeks straight away he was in racking pain. At intervals it made the sweat run off him in streams.

Then he went to bed, John did, and a doctor took him in hand, as a pilot does a ship when the navigation is getting ugly. "My doctor," Garrett says, "was the best of men, but he didn't seem to know what ailed me." Nor did the other medical man who followed him.

On this poor brother's heart sank within him, as King David's did when he heard of the late of Absalom. Having nothing to do except to think, he thought he would go to a London hospital and ask the learned men there what was the matter with him. They said his right kidney was diseased and the left one affected. They feared they couldn't help him but would take him in for a month if he cared to stay. He said he didn't care to stay, and went home to Dartford. Quite right. As a place to die in the hop country here is a hospital.

Then he told his home doctor what the London doctors had said. The home doctor agreed with the London doctors and told him he would soon join the silent majority—who are done with diseases.

The end of Garrett's story, written by him at his home, 18, Wellington Road, Dartford, Kent, January 7th, 1901, runs this way: "I kept out of bed and moved about all I could. I turned up at the works sometimes, but from January 1900 to Easter I did not exert enough to keep myself. More than once they sent me home."

"For three years I lingered along in this fashion when one Sunday I read in Lloyd's Newspaper about a stevedore who was handled like me and had been cured by Mother Selge's Syrup and without saying a word to anybody I got that medicine and began taking it."

"The first bottle picked up my appetite and I actually felt hungry—a strange sensation for me. I slept better. The pain was not so sharp and the kidney secretion was clearer and of a better colour. The second bottle did me more good still, and after the third I felt like a king. I mean a healthy and happy king, if there is such a being."

"Today I feel as well as I ever did. Saturday last I felt a bit out of sorts, from indigestion probably, and took a dose of Selge's Syrup; and to-day I am right as rain. You may publish my tale."—John Garrett.

Did this man have Bright's disease? You have heard what the doctors said. Let us leave the point to them. Whether the snake that bit us was a poison snake or not is of no importance after we have got rid of the effects of the bite. Anyhow, whatever Garrett had, Mother Selge's Syrup cured him and the rest is nothing.

He has been employed at the Daily Telegraph paper mills for twenty-six years, but does not look his sixty years, his real age. Meeting him to-day you would not imagine he had ever been ill at all.

THE NEW FRENCH REMEDY, THERAPION.
This successful and highly popular remedy, as employed in the Continental Hospitals by Ricord, Rostan, Jobert, Velpeau, and others, combines all the desiderata to be sought in a medicine of the kind, and surpasses everything hitherto employed.
THERAPION No. 1, in a few days only, removes all discharges from the urinary organs, effectually superseding injections, the use of which does irreparable harm by laying the foundation of stricture and other serious diseases. In dysentery, piles, irritation of the lower bowel, cough, bronchitis, asthma, and some of the more trying complaints of this kind, it will be found astonishingly efficacious, affording prompt relief where other well-tried remedies have been powerless.
THERAPION No. 2, for impurity of the blood, scurfy, pimples, spots, blotches, pains and swellings of the joints, secondary symptoms, disease of the bones, sore throat, and all diseases for which it has been too much a fashion to employ mercury, sarsaparilla, &c., to the destruction of the sufferer's teeth and ruin of health. This preparation purifies the whole system through the blood, and thoroughly eliminates every poisonous matter from the body.
THERAPION No. 3, for nervous exhaustion, waste of vitality, and all the distressing consequences arising from early error, excess, residence in hot, unhealthy climates, &c. It possesses surprising power in restoring strength and vigour to the debilitated.
THERAPION may be procured of the principal Chemists and Merchants throughout the world. Price in England 2/6 and 4/6. In ordering, the purchaser should state which of the three numbers he requires, and observe that the word "THERAPION" appears on the Government Stamp (in white letters on a red ground) affixed to every genuine package by order of Her Majesty's Hon. Commissioners, and without which it is a forgery.

OWING to the insufficiency of accommodation in the present building and the increasing demand for admission, it has been found necessary to extend the wings of the main building and to enlarge the Chinese department by an additional storey with two wings. The estimated cost will amount to over $15,000. To cover these expenses we appeal to the liberality of all friends of Education. The establishment has been in existence for the last 25 years and is open to all classes. Much of the clerical work of the city is carried on by its past pupils. As this is the first time we have applied for assistance we expect a generous response. The names of our most liberal Benefactors will be inscribed upon marble tablets, as a lasting testimony of their generosity.

THE TRIAD DANGER.

Seeing that China proper contains an area roughly computed at 1,340,000 square miles, it may appear to European eyes somewhat hypersensitive to attach importance to the two comparatively small Triad outbreaks which occurred last month at Ping-king, and Hsing Ping respectively. It is perhaps on this ground that the majority of the English press correspondents have omitted all mention of these troubles. Nevertheless, if the riots themselves were of little moment—a contention which can only be accepted in an approximate sense, since the lives of four white men, two white women, and many natives were at stake—as indications of Chinese unrest, they are worthy of attentive consideration.

In the first place, the Triad Society is admirably organized and extremely powerful. It has a definite political object, of which the leaders never lose sight, and that object, by appealing to the sense of patriotism, latent in every man (though recent British experiences suggest the interpolation of a qualifying "almost") has attached to the society the political dreamers and fanatics of China, as well as the practical and worldly-wise schemers. At what, then do the Triads aim? At nothing less than the overthrow of the Manchu "dynasty of usurpers," the banishment of the alien ruling race, and the resumption of the Empire by the true Chinese, with a prince of their own blood upon the throne. With the national aspect of this movement, the possibilities of ultimate success, and the probabilities of indefinitely prolonged failure, this article is not concerned; enormous knowledge would be required to handle the subject adequately.

But the Triads and their doings have a bearing upon the white far-Eastern problem, which is, perhaps, a little overlooked at home, by reason of the Boxer Society occupying the entire foreground of the Chinese picture, as seen through European spectacles. Ignorance, lust, and greed form the foundations of the Boxer movement—a triplet prolific of horrible results; but the definiteness and continuity of Triad policy, the element of pure passion introduced by the genuine patriots, give to this organization a vital force and a lasting influence which the other will not possess a decade hence. Now, though it affects indifference towards secret societies, the Imperial Government is fully aware of these things, and is careful to make of the white residents (who are really more disliked by the Manchus than by the Chinese) a buttress against the Triads. The right of the Roman Catholic missionaries to interfere in the administration of native justice, and the connection between foreigners and the burdensome indemnities taxation, are carefully impressed upon the people, that the enemy of the Triads may be partly diverted from the Court to the whites. In case of an open outbreak such as recently occurred, the Imperial authorities make a great show of protecting Europeans, that the influence of the latter may remain on the side of the reigning dynasty. To play off one adversary against another is traditional Oriental policy. In order that the Chinese may not imagine the white residents to be a dangerous power in the land, it has been secretly set about that the foreign devils were completely worsted in the recent fighting, in the sign whereof the Emperor will, for the future, only allow them to occupy a certain small enclosure in Peking—a clear mark of subjection. It has been hinted, moreover, that the Son Heaven may further decide not to demean himself by continuing to reside at all in Peking, where whites are to a certain extent tolerated. This statement is probably a fabrication, but, if information received from private native sources be trustworthy, the Court is not likely to return for the present. According to this report the building of the new Imperial temple and the decoration of the Palace exterior is a mere blind, for nothing has been done to make it habitable; within, where foreigners are not admitted, desolation reigns undisturbed.

The anti-foreign riots at Ping-king and Hsing-Ping were happily put down without loss of white life, but that fact does not destroy the need for the maintenance of a perpetual European watch upon the development of the Triad movement.—Pall Mall Gazette.
